

Triumph Herald 13/60 Convertible

Triumph Herald 13/60 convertible - in great order

A charming example of classic British motoring, this 1968 Triumph Herald Convertible 13/60 is finished in elegant Leyland White, complemented by a striking red interior that perfectly captures the style and character of the swinging sixties.

With its distinctive front end, graceful lines and fully open-top driving experience, the Herald Convertible is a wonderfully characterful classic, offering all the pleasures of traditional British motoring. The 13/60 model benefits from the lively 1,296cc four-cylinder engine, making it an enjoyable companion for sunny-day drives, classic car gatherings and weekend escapes.

The car is fitted with a couple of modern extras being a reversing camera and digital speedometer but these can be easily removed

This fine example has been subject to much attention and expenditure over the years. This includes an early renovation and respray. There is a large history file.

Most recently the following has been undertaken:

- New battery in early 2026
- New clutch master cylinder in mid-2026
- New distributor and coil electronic Sept 2026
- All steering and suspension renewed in 2025
