

Triumph TR6

A Triumph of a Triumph

An early Triumph TR6 (being 1968) that is in superb condition throughout.

This is a 125PS twin carb model and was originally built for the American market, the car was subsequently returned to the UK in the 90's and is a right hand drive vehicle. Having been part of a collection in long term storage for well over 14 years this car has seen little time on the road. We have now fully re-commissioned the car mechanically and electrically, the bodywork and underside required no attention as it is in tip-top condition

Our work included a complete brake overhaul with disc, pads, calipers and hoses/pipes as well as the ignition system and electrical components as necessary plus servicing. The engine and box runs smoothly with a strong oil pressure showing.

The interior is very clean and there is no dash cracking, rips or tears and the wood is also good. The hood is also in fine condition

The car has a Heritage certificate
